try this: next time you step into a gym, take time before hand to lay out exactly what you want to do, including exercises, sets, reps, and weight, then follow it to the letter