if grafts are difficult to place and placing one graft causes the adjacent graft to pop out, the spacing among incisions must be increased making dense packing difficult

the ulnar is kind of underneath the pinky and the radius is on the other side.

in some instances, drug companies intentionally ignore or hide information suggesting or demonstrating potentially serious side effects.

of triggered by the passionfiresincerness communicated displayed in the post article